Network with Canada's most powerful women.

Here's your chance to network with some of the most accomplished women in Canadian business, government and not-for-profit. Canada's Most Powerful Women Summit is a unique opportunity to connect and learn from such leaders as Carol Stephenson, Dean of Richard Ivey School of Business, Christine Magee, President & Co-Founder of Sleep Country Canada and Sylvia Chrominska, Executive Vice President, Human Resources, Scotiabank. You'll also have the chance to get to know Canada's top female leaders from Canada's Most Powerful Women: Top 100 as they talk about their personal lives and their experiences in the corporate world.

Program Highlights

- Learn leadership skills from the Dean of Canada's pre-eminent business school.
- Hear from Canada's most dynamic business leaders about what it takes to start your own business.
- Get up close with female leaders from Canada's Most Powerful Women: Top 100.
- Find out what really matters to your key employees.
- Learn the art of networking and build valuable business relationships.
- Increase your value to yourself and your organization on the way to personal fulfillment.
- Gain practical insights on how to present with power.
